EPITHET DUEL: 'HOYNE A HUN'; 'PASTOR A TOOL'

Rev. Williams and the Prosecutor Go to the Mat.

The Rev. Elmer L. Williams, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, and State's Attorney Macay Hoyne "went to the mat" last night.

From his pulpit the minister read a scathing statement in which he declared that the state's attorney's office was a criminal machine which protected lawbreakers rather than prosecuting them. He followed his verbal onslaughts upon Mr. Hoyne's official acts with stinging criticism of Mr. Hoyne's personal habits.

Mr. Hoyne listened to reports of the pastor's statements and hurried back a caustic reply. He gave out copies of letters written by Mr. Williams intended to show that the minister had been on terms of the closest intimacy with Francis A. Becker, "invincible chief of the north side police," and now under indictment.

CALIS HOYNE A "HUN." Neither man intoned words. The prosecutor referred to Mr. Williams as the "friend, intimate, and tool of crooks"; while the clergymen called the state's attorney a "Hun" and his office organization a "group of Prussian spies."

Mr. Williams' attack was made as result of a raid on his residence last week by detectives from the state attorney's office, who seized papers from Mr. Williams' safe.

Mr. Williams' philippic was listened to by several hundred persons and when he stated he was in his fight with Mr. Hoyne to a finish he was given prolonged applause. Before he had completed his attack, however, a number walked out of the auditorium.

WILLIAMS' WHYS. The chief part of his attack consisted of a series of questions concerning Mr. Hoyne's official record, to which he demanded answers. They follow in summarized form:

Why has Hoyne never prosecuted the McAvoy brothers, indicted for election fraud?

Why has he never prosecuted Joe Frez and Arthur Quinn for their part in the lake shore bungaries while he sent their fellow bungies to the penitentiary?

Why did he nolle pross the case against Joe Frez in which Frez was charged with committing a crime against a little girl?

Why did he have men on his payroll who were active in promoting vice and crime under a former administration?

EDDIE MACK CASE. Why did he give immunity to Eddie Mack in the Washington Park bank robbery case and refuse to make known the names of policemen involved in his connection?

Why did he permit Dick Gavin and his partner to strike out the Black Hand through cases from 1911 to 1914, until most of the evidence was dissipated?

Why did he allow a case against the daughter of a little girl to be dismissed when the mother came to court ready to prosecute?

Why did his assistant, Mr. Hogan, defer the arrest and prosecution of Sen. Senator John. Powell, charged with a crime against a young girl?

Did he know the record of the "million dollar bungie trust" when he took the members out of prison to use as state witnesses and entertained them in Chicago hotel?

THE LITTLE HERO. Concerning the visit of detectives to his residence the minister said:

"What crime have I committed that I should be assailed by the criminal machinery which I pay taxes to support? I have dared the gang. I have fought the system. I have exposed political and social rotteness. I have cut off graft forever. I have earned the money or earned it from clean. God fearing citizens to carry on this war."

"My crime is this: I stand between the little hero of the twentieth century and his ambition. I am the only man to write or private life not indicted by Hoyne who has publicly exposed him. His eye is upon the mayor's chair."

"Hoyne has other powerful enemies. He is the city hall who have betrayed their trust and served his purpose. A majority is being consummated to trade house committee for a Republican committee."

"Hoyne has served the saloon and

EQUESTRIENNE DEFENDS FLAT IN POLICE RAID

Nellie La Pearl Waves Gun at Besiegers on Vice Hunt.

Mrs. Nellie La Pearl, once the "equestrienne queen" of the circus, achieved new note as a person of dynamic qualities last night when she barricaded herself in her apartment at 210 East Forty-sixth street and held off some twenty-five policemen at the muzzle of a brandished revolver.

Mrs. La Pearl projected her head from time to time and announced to a crowd that numbered well over 1,000 that they had better step back for the fireworks were about to ensue.

Saw Man Drive Up.

She particularly directed her challenges to Sergt. Michael Grady of the Fifth street station, who sought to raid Mrs. La Pearl's place. Sergt. Grady said the apartment housed not only Mrs. La Pearl, but her daughter, Mrs. Milton Swartzwa, the latter's young son, and also Miss June Moore, said to be the former wife of Joseph Schoen, a manufacturer of rubber goods.

Sergt. Grady based his desire to raid the apartment upon his vigilance in perceiving the male occupants of a number of automobiles enter the apartment.

Mrs. La Pearl already is notable in a public way, first for having sued Adrian C. Honore for several thousand dollars, alleging breach of promise and also because her husband, James H. La Pearl, an old time circus man, also sued Mr. Honore in another branch of the same subject, the suits not being pressed, in a manner of speaking. Mrs. La Pearl also sued Judge Gemmill after she had been held to the grand jury in his court on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Generous Advice.

Last night Sergt. Grady, allying himself with several men entering the La Pearl apartment, applied for entrance. It was emphatically denied. Grady went into the street and summoned help. It came, both police and civilian. Twenty-five patrolmen and detectives rallied to Sergt. Grady's banner and also a couple of regiments of innocent bystanders, who contributed advice, both serious and ironical, to the besieging party.

These copperps will never get in here," she said. "My daughter is ill and I won't have her disturbed. If you will step back I will bow over a few police men."

A Man Emerges.

The onlookers shifted to the other foot and waited for seemingly certain developments of a sanguinary sort. Mrs. La Pearl brandished a revolver.

"I'll shoot the first policeman who attempts to enter here without a warrant," said she. A cheer greeted this man whose name remained a mystery emanated from the apartment, he having enough, and was instantly taken in charge by the police who sent him to the Fifth street station, keeping him incog. as it were.

THE WEATHER.

Sergt. Grady then ordered a strict watch kept while he retired to the station to think the matter over and provide himself with the sinews of war. It was suspected he sought a warrant, but he was gone. Mrs. La Pearl continued to hold the fort. She was still on the job early this morning.

Blindness Prevents Her from Working; Suicide

Bewailing in a note her blindness from birth that prevented her working, Miss Beatrice Parrott, 24 years old, 3512 South Michigan avenue, locked herself in the bathroom of her home yesterday and turned on the gas. She is dead. In the note which she scribbled in pencil and left weighted down with a scissor on a table in the kitchen, Miss Parrott said that if she had been able to see like other people she might have supported her mother and herself, thus escaping the troubled home which she declared caused her suicide.

ESCAPES ARMY BY SUICIDE ON SECOND TRIAL

Michigan Man Said to Have Been Support of Orphans.

Thon Jacobson of Menominee, Mich., leaped to his death from a Northwestern train just north of Winthrop Harbor yesterday morning. It was his second attempt to avoid military service by suicide.

These copperps will never get in here," he said. "My daughter is ill and I won't have her disturbed. If you will step back I will bow over a few police men."

THE WAR.

British air raids continue over Belgium; monitors bombard Oostend; Scottish troops raid enemy trenches near Goussancourt; repulse German attack northeast of Lange-marck.

Germany repulses British near Mouchy after a hand to hand engagement, and report loss of 14 enemy airplanes in the Aisne sector.

Russians check two attacks on Roumanian positions; repulse enemy advance guards in Rudna region.

Italians penetrate enemy advanced positions by exploding a mine.

BURNHAM ENJOYS 'JOYOUS' SUNDAY AND THEN SOME

Lids and Laws Don't Dampen Ribald Gayety of Resorts.

"I do not think flagrant disregard of the Sunday closing law was prevalent in country districts yesterday. Disputes were started in Cleo, Lajos, Jutro, and other towns, as has been customary, but the Nambotchi Poot, of being in a conspiracy with Korniloff "to crush the Petrograd proletariat and the workers and soldiers' delegates with the help of cavalry corps sent against Petrograd."

The newspapers ask why, if the published documents are forged, no trial has been issued.

Maxim Gorky's paper, Novaya Zhizn, declares the affair is causing a sensation in the ranks of the government and that M. Tereshchenko, the foreign minister, conversed by telephone with M. Kerensky about the matter yesterday, whereupon Kerensky postponed his return to Petrograd.

DICTIONARY PLANNED.

The Bolshevik group in the Duma on the central workers and soldiers' delegates has carried by an overwhelming majority a resolution demanding an explanation.

The resolution refers to "revelations concerning the actions of members and agents of the provisional government in connection with the preparation in Gen. Korniloff's headquarters of a conspiracy against the revolution," and continues:

"The plan was to announce an individual or collective dictatorship, at the same time declaring Petrograd under martial law, then mercilessly to break the Petrograd revolutionary and working class organizations under the pretext of crushing an imaginary Bolshevik plot."

LEADERS BARE NEGOTIATIONS.

Petrograd newspapers publish columns of revelations and interviews with the chief actors in the revolt, and it is agreed that negotiations between Premier Kerensky and Gen. Korniloff for the establishment of a strong government at Petrograd preceded the rebellion. The march of Gen. Korniloff's troops on the capital is called part of the scheme.

MICHAELIS TO PLEDGE LIBERTY FOR BELGIUM

Chancellor May Insist on Return of Colonies, Germans Told.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 23.—Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial chancellor, will discuss the Belgian question and German peace conditions in a speech next Wednesday, according to the Neueste Nachrichten of Munich. The chancellor will declare, the newspaper said, that Germany is ready to reestablish Belgian independence if the entente powers agree to restore the German colonies and to give up "their policy of territorial and economic conquest."

Please German Liberals.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—It is generally pointed out by the Berlin press that Germany's reply to the papal peace proposal is important by virtue of its dignified tone and spirit, in contradiction to President Wilson's reply to the pope, and also on account of the absence of all vilification of Germany's enemies.

The Liberal press is especially jubilant because the government unreservedly has brought itself into sympathy with the Reichstag peace resolution. Pan-German and Ultra-Conservative newspapers, with one exception, are unreservedly in their comment.

The Freiheit am Mittag says:

"It must be admitted that the German reply heaps fiery coals on the heads of our enemies. After President Wilson's nastiness and the presumption of the French foreign ministers, M. Ribot and his followers, we have here a document which, marked by dignity and reserve, is alone dictated by an appreciation of the brotherhood of men."

Ready to Negotiate.

"We declare ourselves ready to enter into negotiations on the basis of the papal mediation proposal. We say so quite frankly. We approve the ideas of right before might, of freedom of the seas, of the association of a society of nations of disarmament to a feasible extent and of an arbitration court. We are seeking peace—a permanent peace—along these lines."

"Once upon a time, months ago, this same President Wilson's program, for the present, has abandoned it, because, as he says, a transformation of German sentiment and viewpoints must first set in. This argument, has now also collapsed."

The Morgen Post says:

"If the German note does not take the opportunity of occupying itself with the Belgian question, and details in general, this manifestly is prompted by a desire to create an atmosphere in which the peace commissioners could move about unhampered, and, further, for the reason that discussion of individual problems would only bring up the fundamental question."

Now Up to Allies.

The Boeren Zeitung observes that a careful perusal of the note reveals very definite declarations of concession. All now, the newspaper says, depends on the good will of the belligerent governments, and it adds:

"If this will is present, the German reply will be acceptable, and will be an understanding. This may be associated with all positiveness in view of the fact that it is an open secret that addition to the German official reply other declarations will be forthcoming, or already have been made, which will clinch up one of the fundamental questions of the coming peace."

Comment by Austrians.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 23.—Austrian newspapers point out that the answer of Emperor Charles concurs fully with the basic ideas of the pope's note and that the German answer is conceived in the same peaceable sense, according to a telegram from Vienna. They express hope that the answers will be received with satisfaction by the pope. The newspapers declare that the entente will shoulder a heavy responsibility if they again fail to tread the path to peace now opened up.

The Fremdenblatt says the character of the pope's proposals is such that their realization would do justice "to our demand for a safeguarded and undisturbed existence" and the emperor therefore concur in them to the full extent.

"If the proposals meet with the same reception at the hands of the allies as with us, then it naturally follows that peace without annexations and indemnities, such as the holy father desires, will meet with no hindrance on the part of Austria-Hungary."

The correspondent at Vienna of the Berliner Tageblatt says:

"The replies of Turkey and Bulgaria will be forwarded to the pope today. Turkey demands that her territory shall not be violated. Bulgaria demands that her frontiers shall be regulated in accordance with the principles of nation-

CROWD KEPT OUT OF STATION AS SOLDIERS LEAVE

Last of City's Second Contingent Enlists for Rockford.

Two willing and hard working bands and a sprinkling of soldiers and Jackies were all that saved the departure of the last trainload—for the present—of the national army men from Chicago from being a matter of fact and unemotional affair. The train left from the union station over the Burlington, and when it arrived at Rockford after the three hours run the first of the 40 per cent contingents from Chicago was complete at Camp Grant.

The fact is that America has barely sugar to maintain normal consumption until next January, and because of this Food Administrator Hoover has issued an appeal to the people of the country to cut down purchases of candy and of sugar except for preserving fruit in order to save the French situation.

Hoover Issues Appeal.
Administrator Hoover conferred with President Wilson yesterday regarding the French appeal and last night dictated the following statement for publication:

"The French people are on a ration of sugar equal to only twenty-one pounds per annum per person—or at the rate of less than one single ounce per day per person—a little more than the weight of a silver dollar each day."

"The English and Italian rations are also not over one ounce per day."

Face Real Famine.
"The French people will be entirely without sugar for over two months if we refuse to part with enough from our stocks to keep them supplied with even this small allowance, as it is not available from any other quarter."

"The French ration is a human necessity. If our people will reduce by one-third their purchases and consumption of candy and of sugar for other uses than preserving fruit, which we do not wish to interfere with, we can save the French situation."

"In the interest of the French people and of the loyalty we owe them to divide our food in the maintenance of our common cause, I ask the American people to do this. It is unthinkable that we refuse their request."

Divisions 50 and 60 also had contingents on the afternoon train, while the train which left at 3:45 a.m. from the same station carried the men from Divisions 25, 35, 47, 68, 74, 76, and 78. Gov. Charles S. Deneen was one of the speakers at the banquet given Saturday night.

How They Came.

An escort from the Seventh Infantry, including drummers and buglers, accompanied the men from Division 51. The men from Division 34 came in a procession of motor busses. In their hats they wore cards proclaiming their "kaiser catchers." Division 50 sent the men from Austin in automobiles after speeches and services in the Austin park.

RHEUMATISM AND BROKEN DOWN ARCHES

The pains in each of the above ailments are so near alike that even our best physicians often mistake the broken arch pains for rheumatic pains and prescribe accordingly. The medicine given, of course, has no effect and the patient often suffers for years before he realizes that possibly the trouble is with the arch nerves and muscles. I have seen thousands of such cases in my 32 years of experience.

If you suffer with pains in the limbs or back, come in and let me examine your arches. It may save you years of suffering. If your arches are broken I can fit you with a pair of Larson's Anatomic Sta-Right Shoes that will relieve your trouble and return your feet to health.

NATIONS DETAIL BATTLE MOVES IN WORLD WAR

Progress on All Fronts
Is Shown in Reports from Capitals.

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—At dawn today an attack delivered by German storming troops northeast of Langeais was repulsed completely, the enemy leaving twenty-five prisoners in our hands. English rifle regiments then attacked in turn, and, after sharp fighting, captured a further portion of the German defense system in this neighborhood, a number of prisoners. On the rest of the battle front the organization of our newly captured positions is proceeding.

The infantry action has been confined to patrol encounters, resulting in the capture of a few prisoners.

Another hostile attack was launched early this morning against the positions recently captured east of Villeret, but was repulsed with enemy losses. Our casualties were light.

Since the opening of our attack on Sept. 20 we have captured on the Ypres battle front 3,243 prisoners, including eighty officers.

DAY STATEMENT.

Considerable activity was shown last night by German artillery in the Ypres sector of the English front, where the British have been conducting an offensive. On the Somme front Scottish troops raided the Tauron trenches near Gouzeaucourt, destroying dugouts and killing many occupants. Several prisoners were captured.

AVIATION.

British naval air squadrons continue to make bombing raids on military establishments in Belgium. On Friday night our naval aircraft carried out bombing raids on the Thourout and Cortemarck railway stations. The Thourout station and other buildings were set on fire. Bombs were dropped on the docks at Ostend on Saturday. All our machines returned safely.

The misty weather Saturday resulted in a decided decrease in our recent great aerial activity. Our airplanes, none the less, carried out successful bombing raids and dropped during the day 134 bombs on hostile billets, huts, and airfields. In the night three tons of bombs were dropped on the towns of Mons and droves on the lines of the Meuse and various railway stations. The enemy dropped a few bombs at mid-day, doing little damage.

Four enemy airplanes were brought down in air fighting and five were driven down out of control. Two of ours are missing.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—There was no infantry action today. The artillery section was quite violent in the region of Hurebise and Craonne, as well as on the left bank of the Meuse, north of Hill 304.

GERMAN.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—On Sept. 22 and 23 communications and cantonments on both sides were shelled after bomb fights before Dixmude and Lamotte No. 2, east of the Ypres. Our artillery took under its efficient fire enemy works and observatories in the outskirts of Dixmude, and silenced several German batteries. Notwithstanding the foggy weather the activity of our aviators was very great. They bombarded today enemy barracks near Leku in reprisal for bombardments of our cantonments.

RUSSO-ROUMANIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—Front of Crown Prince Rupprecht—Yesterday morning a British monitor, assisted by aerial observers, bombarded Ostend. A few shells struck the cathedral in which early mass was being held. Seven Belgians were killed and

THE FIGHTING IN FLANDERS

1—Berlin reports British monitor shelled Ostend, but was driven off by German coast batteries.

2—Berlin reports heavy artillery fire along Flanders front, followed by strong English attacks southeast of St. Julian, which were repulsed.

3—Berlin reports considerable activity by German artillery in Ypres sector.

twenty-four wounded. The monitor was driven off by the fire of our coast batteries.

On the Flanders front the artillery fire was of variable intensity after the conclusion of local fighting early in the morning. Toward evening the enemy activity again increased to dominate south of Ypres. This was followed by strong English local attacks southeast of St. Julian. The enemy was repulsed. At night the artillery fire diminished and there was no infantry activity.

An English company which penetrated into our trenches, after violent artillery preparation, near Mouschi, southeast of Arns, was driven out again after a hand to hand engagement. During the engagement south of the Cambrai-Bapaume road, as well as the Somme and the Oise, prisoners were taken.

Front of the German crown prince along the Aisne, on Brimont and in some sectors of the Champagne front, there were lively artillery duels at intervals. During numerous reconnoitering advances, which frequently brought our shock troops as far as the rear of the French fighting establishments, a number of prisoners were taken, although the enemy fled almost everywhere. Our trench garrisons repulsed French reconnoitering parties at some points. Before Verdun in the afternoon the artillery fire increased to considerable intensity.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—In the Marmolada on the night of Sept. 21-22, by exploding a mine which we had prepared after long tunnelling work, our parties were enabled to penetrate two advanced positions of the enemy and to establish themselves.

In the Bainsais plateau violent concentrations of fire were repeated against our positions in the Kal region and west of Voinik had no results.

In the neighborhood of Roccogliano and Solo we advanced our line of observation, thus rectifying it in our favor.

On the Carso yesterday the opposing artillery was more active than usual.

AVIATION.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Last night one of our airplanes, navigating in unfavorable atmospheric conditions, returned to the Chiaspava valley and renewed its effective bombardment of the enemy's encampment.

TURKISH FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 23.—There was no event of importance on the Caucasus front.

AVIATION.

ATHENS, Sept. 23.—Premier Venizelos, who has returned to Athens much hantized from a rest cure at Mykonos, in an interview today said:

"The general trend of affairs is satisfactory. The situation is well in hand. The problem of food supplies, however, is offering great obstacles, especially in the Peloponnesus. The food commission, but the measures which have been adopted are relieving the existing distress, which amounts to something approaching famine."

MACEDONIAN FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—During the great heat there were fighting actions only west of Lake Ochrida. German and Hungarian troops in a storm attack captured a hill from the French near Krchovo (southeast of Elbasan).

FRANC.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Eastern theater, Sept. 23.—Artillery fighting continued in the region of Doiran and the Vardar. At several points along the front, notably in the Italian sector, the enemy attempted surprise attacks but was repulsed. On Sept. 20 a French detachment, operating in conjunction with the Albanian contingents of Enver Pasha, carried out in the Skumbi valley a successful raid, in which serious losses were inflicted on the Austrian troops and 442 unwounded prisoners and two machine guns were taken.

SUPPLEMENTARY

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—Apart from lively artillery actions in Flanders there is nothing to report from the various fronts.

WESTERN AND SOUTHWESTERN FRONTS: Yesterday there were only fusillades.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—Front of Prince Leopold: At the Jagobstadt bridge head considerable quantities of war material were found in the hastily abandoned Russian positions. Our troops have reached the Dvina at all points from Livenhov to Shokhanshof (south and north of Jagobstadt respectively).

A Russian bombardment caused fires in Pliski.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—In the Marmolada on the night of Sept. 21-22, by exploding a mine which we had prepared after long tunnelling work, our par-

Venizelos Satisfied with War Conditions in Greece

ATHENS, Sept. 23.—Premier Venizelos, who has returned to Athens much hantized from a rest cure at Mykonos, in an interview today said:

"The general trend of affairs is satisfactory. The situation is well in hand.

The problem of food supplies, however, is offering great obstacles, especially in the Peloponnesus. The food commission, but the measures which have been adopted are relieving the existing distress, which amounts to something approaching famine."

FORCE BELGIANS INTO WAR PLANTS

HAIRE, Sept. 23.—The German military authorities at Bruges, Belgium, are conscripting forcibly all the boys and men of that city between the ages of 16 and 60 to work in munition factories and shipyards. The rich and the poor, shopkeepers and workmen, all are being taken, only the school teachers, doctors, and priests escaping.

The Germans virtually conducted raids in the city, according to reports received here, seizing men in their homes, in the streets, and in all public places. The provincial committee has been ordered by the Germans to release 75 per cent of its staff.

Bruges is the capital of the province of West Flanders, lying fifty-five miles northwest of Brussels and fourteen miles east of Ostend. The population in 1914 was about 55,000.

Food Commission Decreed for Spain After Oct. 1

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 23.—Premier Dato, after a conference with the military authorities regarding the provisioning of the country, announced that a decree was in preparation instituting a food commission, which would enter upon its duties on Oct. 1. The premier added that the alarm manifested in Catalonia over the supposed invasion of the government was unjustified.

The Germans virtually conducted raids in the city, according to reports received here, seizing men in their homes, in the streets, and in all public places. The provincial committee has been ordered by the Germans to release 75 per cent of its staff.

BAKER PRAISES RAINBOW GROUP; REVIEWS 25,000

Reilly's Men Also Lauded in Special Inspection by War Secretary.

BY RICHARD C. BURRITT.
Camp Mills, N. Y., Sept. 23.—[Special.]
The famous rainbow division, "America's ace" in the war for democracy, paraded in review this morning before Secretary of War Baker and Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff of the American army.

Others at the reviewing point opposite division headquarters were Maj. Gen. W. A. Mann, the rainbow's commander; Col. Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Mann's chief of staff, and Capt. Coulter, his aid.

Only ninety-three minutes were consumed by more than 25,000 troops from twenty-six states to pass.

Baker Praises Soldiers.

"It is the first time I have seen a divisional review," he began with shining eyes. "It is the most impressive sight I have ever witnessed. The troops are in admirable condition and in the highest of spirits. The country is to be congratulated on its manifestation of strength and unity."

"This division was drawn from all parts of the country and represents in a magnificent way the national enterprise in which America is engaged. I have warmly congratulated Gen. Mann, who commands this division, on the excellent condition and showing of the men."

By this time a crowd had encompassed the gate near which Secretary Baker had stood reviewing the troops. Enthusiastic spectators clambered for an audience.

Lauds Work of Gen. Mann.

Seating up in the car, the secretary addressed them as follows:

"On behalf of Gen. Mann and the war department, I wish to express my warm appreciation of your coming here to see this review. As you know, this division is drawn from all parts of the United States and represents more than any other division a cross section of the whole country."

"It is an evidence of the character of the work which the country is making in behalf of freedom and liberty. No one could have witnessed this review without inspiring thoughts and happy anticipations of the outcome when our boys get in the field. I know you share with me in this feeling of pleasure and pride that attends this splendid exhibition of young American manhood."

The crowd applauded the appearance of the Illinois division of Col. Reilly, closely followed by Lieut. Col. Smith, Capt. A. J. R. Montgomery, Lieut. W. L. Lawrence, and behind them Maj. Gen. Biddle of the First battalion. The Illinois men were spotless uniforms, men well carried themselves well. Headquarters company probably presented the best line.

All Reviews 149th Artillery.

Secretary Baker, Gen. Bliss, and Gen. Mann that drove to the camp of the 149th Artillery, with General Infants Col. Hough, from Ohio, the secretary's home state. The party then singled out the One Hundred and Forty-ninth Field artillery, formerly the First Illinois, to inspect as the smartest of the division.

On leaving the party offered Col. Reilly their congratulations on his neat, orderly camp and the regiment's efficiency.

British Veterans Tell of "The Real Thing."

A post war lecture, entitled "The Real Thing," will be given by Capt. K. Hugh Davies, a former member of the Fifth Australian Infantry. Col. Lee Nichols formerly of the Honorable Artillery company of London, in Rochester hall Friday night. Capt. Knivett's subject will be "The Newest Warfare," while Mr. Nichols will speak on "The Human Side of French Life," which will be illustrated by a number of photographs taken along the battle line in France and Belgium.

—few men are careful, analytical clothes buyers. In Chicago, for instance, fully half a million men and young men buy their clothes hurriedly, indulgently. They go to Brown's store or to Jones' shop—because habit prompts them to. And whatever Brown or Jones recommends, they accept without challenge—seldom seeking to make comparisons elsewhere.

It is not surprising that these men rarely discover the lack of standardization in clothes prices. At Brown's store a given value is priced at $35; at Jones' the same fabric sells at $40.

Indeed, clothes are often sold like Turkish rugs. The seller asks what he thinks he can get!

Hyacinthia Macysak and Myrtle Knight

A gift of $10,500 was presented yesterday to the Hedwig's manual training school for boys and industrial school for girls at Niles. The donor was the Polish court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which Felix Wilkowski is president. The check was first presented to Archbishop G. W. Mundelein, who gave it to the Rev. Francis S. Rusch, chaplain and superintendent of the home. Archbishop Mundelein commanded the work of the school and the interest the fraternal order expressed toward this charitable work. There are 612 children in the home, which is divided into two branches. Because of the crowd, which was esti-

Chicago's Crack Artillery Regiment Buys Its Own Insignia Scores Another Preparedness Record.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[Special.] The Evening Telegram prints the following:

"One of the crack regiments for efficiency at Camp Mills, Mineola, is the 149th field artillery, originally the First Illinois. It is largely envied by other commands because it is wearing the new insignia of the national guard troops."

"Learning this insignia would not be ready for issuance by the U. S. Army and the Illinois division, for some time. Illinois command's regimental supply officer unearthened the factory at Newark, N. J., contracted for 4,200 of the insignia and induced the superintendent to keep working all night to turn them out. They were paid for out of the regimental funds."

"This is the difference between a government job and a business man's order."

"It is the difference between official red tape and mercantile efficiency."

"It is a lesson in municipal ownership contrasted with private enterprise."

"But will it teach the government anything?"

"It will not."

END 4TH WEEK OF TRAINING AT FORT SHERIDAN

HOUSTON SHOWS MEN FROM NORTH ITS HOSPITALITY

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]

Today brings to a close the fourth week of the second reserve officers' training camp. The candidates are said to be further advanced than the men of the first camp were at the same stage.

With but a third of the course finished the men are well grounded in the rudiments of soldiering. Already the men are expert in the handling of arms, are almost perfect in their various drills, are using flag signals like old timers and have splendidly survived a strenuous week of trench construction and trench life.

Tonight was French night. More than 3,000 student officers gathered in the mess hall and gave an ovation to First Sgt. William Dugan of the First assault, who gave a description of his three years in the French army.

"If such work as this I have seen here is going on all over the country, then God held the Boche next spring," he said.

Capt. Georges Bertrand of the French army also spoke and was roundly cheered.

This work was urged yesterday before the Current Events class in the First Congregational church, Evanston, by Miss Jissoda Burroughs, secretary-treasurer of Mrs. J. Ogden Armour's finance committee of the Women's National Council of Defense.

SOLDIER'S PATH OF DRINK LEADS TO HIS OWN GRAVE

Just Anderson's Death at Rockford Due to "Misconduct."

BY PARKE BROWN.

CAMP GRANT, Rockford, Ill., Sept. 23.—When his number was drawn among the early ones he announced he was "going to war." His friends began to buy him drinks. He was an ice man and every saloonkeeper on his route "bought" every time he appeared.

When he was called before his division board he was so hilariously intoxicated he was told to come again a few days later. On his second visit he was accepted.

That called for "parties" from his friends. They continued until he was ordered to Camp Grant. Then all limits were exceeded. Finally he was put on the train with a big bottle for company. He was helped from the train when it reached here—merry, noisily drunk.

Body in Morgue.

But tonight his body lies in the temporary morgue of Camp Grant. It is waiting for his friends.

If it had not been for them and liquor he would have been Private Just Anderson of the Second.

The official record shows he died not in the line of duty but that his death was caused "by the soldier's misconduct."

It was delirium tremens.

"He lived at John Peterson's rooming house, 2300 Worthen avenue," said an acquaintance of the same district.

"Anderson was an extreme case, but officers of the national army point to it as indicative of what friends of the selected men should do for them."

Morale Improves.

The officers were pleased today when the last two trains for the 40 per cent increment came in with only one man noticeably intoxicated. They were the men from Bridgeport. The Bridgeport contingent, the men from the Fifth ward, from the Fifteenth ward, and from Logan square came in with their colors flying and their heads up.

The two trains there were approximately 1,500 men, including some "extra" who had to begin their work early. There were about thirty of these and it is understood they will be allowed to remain, although they should not have been allowed to come, as their presence creates small shortages in supplies.

LETTERS HOME

Extract from One Note from Rockford Camp Shows Spirit of New Soldiers.

CAMP GRANT, Rockford, Ill., Sept. 22.—Lieut. John G. Little Jr., commandant of press headquarters, today prowled among the new soldiers writing letters in the Y. M. C. A., and persuaded one of them to permit the use of a part of his letter for publication.

These are some of the things L. M. Moody, 311 Drexel boulevard, Chicago, had written to Rodney Boone, Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago.

"There is no exaggeration when I say we are all one big family."

"Really, all men needs is a little agreement, a little cooperation and he's sure to land some sort of a responsible job and believe me, there are jobs for every one."

"I have been appointed acting first sergeant, Company C, horse section, ammunition train of the divisional trains."

"I am proud of it for more than one reason. First, I got it through my uncle—Uncle Sam, the old uncle I have—and I sold my own little ship. You know, Rod, no politics, no lengthy letters of introduction, no heralding, no friends plugging, and that's why I appreciate it so much."

"We're all alike down here. The almighty dollar even has seemed to give it value, entirely."

Denver Man Wins War Cross.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Raymond R. Crook of Denver, Colo., attached to the American ambulance service, has been awarded the Cross of War for a French wounded under a heavy bombardment during the French offensive at Verdun last August.

Shy on Capable Conductors.

Uncle Sam can use you on land or sea if you possess the qualities of a leader in song. [This is, of course, addressed to men.] The National Committee on Music in the Army and Navy Camps is hard up for men who can do this thing. You are not the man, it is reasonable to suppose that you are at least one who would fill the bill. Seven students, factory, crew, choir, glee club, what not possesses at least one cheerful, magnetic chap who is in clear ownership of the special gift which marks the song-leader—the man who, when he feels like it, will casually hit the pitch, hold it, and, without trying, serve as the vocal balm-bather of all or most of his fellows.

This is the man the army camps and the navy camps require—the man with the natural talent for singing right, and for making everybody else within hearing sing right.

Herbert Gould's Success.

The professional singer may or may not know the way of doing it. Herbert Gould, who is one, knows it. He, a year ago, was a lawyer in Chicago. He took part in two or three recitals and concerts and was given "good notice." He found out, in the summer, that he could help the United States win the war by turning his talents to the training of the intimate friends and associates of Williams are.

Frank Campbell, his pet detective, has been charged with graft in connection with slot machines and shaking down saloonkeepers by use of Williams' name. He has been engaged in the last year or two in operating bongo poker games in loop hotels and trimming strangers in the clubs.

"George Cohen has been charged with shaking down prostitutes in the Twenty-first ward. His correspondence with Williams shows that Williams assisted in procuring his position on the city pay roll as one of Maj. Funkhouser's investigators.

"A Yellow Hypocrite." Williams' correspondence with Becker shows that they were on terms of intimacy, and that he sought through Becker to obtain jobs and favors in the city hall.

"Williams is without any standing among ministers of the gospel, distrusted by most people with whom he comes in contact, and is generally regarded as a yellow hypocrite, who has searched the gutters and cesspools of Chicago for muck and filth, which he capitalizes in his alleged lecture tours and in his pulpit.

"He not only has the copies of the records of Investigator Cohen in his possession, but has also caused Cohen to be false to his trust to the police department and make secret reports against his chief, Maj. Funkhouser. The report against Funkhouser charges him with every fault which Doc Williams charges me."

"He has also procured from Cohen a report on Mayor Thompson, which is fully as bad as anything said by 'Doc' Williams concerning me in his sermon. He has other reports on other public officials."

The stability of a corporation, its power to yield dividends year after year, results from incessant adjustments in policy and methods to meet changing conditions.

Many executives find help in making these adjustments by study of SYSTEM, a magazine that promotes dividend stability by passing along good ideas of successful men.

CHICAGO AIRMAN HELPS DESTROY GERMAN PLANE

PARIS, Sept. 23.—On Sept. 19 four members of the Lafayette escadrille—Sergt. Andrew Campbell of Chicago, Ill.; Sergt. Kenneth Marc of San Francisco, Calif.; Sergt. David Petersen of Honolulu, Pa., and Sergt. Ray Bridgeman of Lake Forest, Ill.—while protecting a big machine on a bombing expedition well into Germany came across a big Hun biplane which was attempting to attack the machine. All four fliers got a lot of bullets home and killed both the pilot and observer of the German machine, which exploded on the earth.

While on patrol Sergt. Robert Rockwell of Cincinnati and Sergt. Robert Soubiran of New York came down very low to attack several enemy machines, but overlooked seven monoplanes which were above them. Lieut. William Thaw of Pittsburgh, realizing the danger the American machines were in, went up and attacked the seven Germans.

FUNKHOUSER'S MEN MAKE SERIES OF VICE RAIDS

Raiding squads ordered by Maj. M. L. C. Funkhouser to clean out vice resorts made a series of raids early yesterday morning and many men and women were arrested and ordered to appear in the Morals court this morning.

Sergt. Ralph Busse, in charge of one of the squads, swooped down upon a building at 41 and 33 West Ninth street, arresting eight men and six women. Other raiders cleaned out an alleged Negro dive at 2827 South Dearborn. Cottage Grove avenue squads picked up more than twenty women on the streets.

Detectives from the Stanton avenue station arrested ten women similar charges. Maj. Funkhouser said:

"We plan to warn owners of offending places just once. Unless they mend their ways, raids will follow."

SERGEANT CULL FILLS SEVENTH TO WAR QUOTA

One week ago today the shortage was ten men and last night the regiment had eighteen men over war strength.

To celebrate, Broth. Jim and a corps of assistants paraded some fire hoses and cleaned off Wentworth Avenue in front of the Seventh armory. Broth. Jim is nothing if not versatile. A crowd estimated at more than 4,000 attended the open air mass for the regiment, started out last week to wipe out the gap between the regiment's enlisted strength and the full war strength.

Miss Helen Reber, teacher at the Wheaton school, who presided at the "initiation" of one of her pupils, Wallace Grange, while he was strung up in a chair, was suspended by the school board for one week. No evidence was presented at the meeting of the board, held at the home of H. A. Schryer, chairman.

At a regular meeting, evidence will be heard and definite action will be taken, according to statements made by board members. The part of the board that is involved. It is believed that a "strike" of the school children in Miss Reber's room was forestalled by the quick action.

Miss Reber explained the conditions leading up to the incident, saying: "A number of boys were transferred to my room from another school this fall. Some of these new boys have been very bad. One boy, in particular, who has been with me before told me that if any of the new boys became unmanageable they would 'straighten them out' for me. This led to plans for what they called an initiation. We had decided that if any of the new boys were very bad they were to be initiated."

"Wallace Grange, one of the new boys, was selected. I punished him and made him cry. I don't think the other boys whipped him very severely. They had sticks with nails in them, but they didn't hit him with them."

"Want Peace," 12,000 Yell at Socialists' Meeting

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Twelve thousand persons who attended a Socialist massmeeting this afternoon at Madison Square garden stood on their chairs and for five minutes chanted in demonstration against the war.

They joined in a vociferous chorus, "We want peace," cried "Shame" at reference to the suppression of Socialist publications by the postoffice department, booed Samuel Gompers and Elihu Root, and greeted with prolonged cheering predictions that "the next mayor of New York will be a Socialist."

CHICAGO OPENS ARMY LIBRARY DRIVE TODAY

"Give Until It Pinches" Is Slogan of Campaign to Raise $100,000.

THE TRIBUNE will be glad to receive and acknowledge subscriptions sent to this paper for the $100,000 war library fund now being collected by Chicago citizens.

Chicago's fall offensive opens today with the first day's solicitation for the $100,000 war library, under the direction of Frederic H. Rawson, chairman of the Chicago war council. For one week business men of Chicago, duplicating the efforts they made in the Red Cross and the Liberty loan drives, are to devote their days and evenings to the endeavor not only to raise the amount promised but to equal New York's record. The sum pledged by New York is $100,000.

Even before the active work of buttonholing started, the committee reported donations extending well into five figures.

Charles W. Folsom, who headed the Library loan campaign in Chicago, has initiated a system of solicitation which is being followed by the other captains of the twenty-odd districts into which the city is divided.

"Give Even the Nickel."

"The more times the people of America are confronted with demands such as this project for war libraries, the more fully will they realize the need for sacrifice. It is as much our war as that of the boys who fight. When our sons are home, tell the fellow who says he has only a nickel left after giving to the Red Cross or the other funds to give that nickel. We need all the money men have in their pockets, if it is 5 cents, 10 or $1,000."

Carrying on this policy, the 300 men and women engaged to gather funds will all "give till it pinches."

Workers had inspiration given them last Friday when at the luncheon for the committee it was announced that less than a half day's work on the part of three men had netted $10,000.

Newspapers Lent Aid.

It is expected that when the subscriptions are turned over to Mr. Teter at the Chicago Savings Bank and Trust company tonight at least one-fourth of the sum pledged will have been raised.

Through the subscription campaigns being waged by newspapers of Chicago a good deal is lent to the campaign, for through the direct appeal to thousands who could not be reached by committees, a ready response is made certain. First is given in the large number giving through these channels to the state and to Mr. Rawson that hundreds are willing to be asked to give.

War Savings Certificates to Be Sent to Every Hamlet in Nation.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Every town and city in the country will have on sale soon a share of the $2,000,000,000 worth of war savings certificates just authorized by congress. Secretary McAdoo announced tonight that the certificates, in denominations as low as $5, bearing 4 per cent interest and maturing in five years, will be issued in blocks from time to time, beginning as quickly as plans can be completed.

The treasury, subtreasuries, internal revenue, customs and postoffices, and other agencies will be designated to make sales.

Special Committee in Charge.

A campaign to bring the value of this form of investment to the attention of the people will be conducted by a special committee appointed by Secretary McAdoo, composed of Frank A. Vanderlip, New York chairman; Frederic A. Delano, Chicago member of the federal reserve board; Henry Ford, Detroit; Eugene Meyer Jr., Mrs. George Bass, Chicago, and Charles L. Paine, Boston. "It is proposed," Mr. McAdoo said tonight, "to develop the plans in such a way that savings may be made through the purchase of stamps of small denominations which can be carried in books issued for the purpose and accumulated until a sufficient amount has been saved to purchase a war savings certificate. The government will redeem these war savings certificates at any time before maturity upon request of the holder, allowing interest at a less rate than 4 per cent."

Opportunity for Everybody.
"It is vitally necessary that the American people should practice savings on a large scale during the progress of this war. In no other way can the government be financed and without adequate financing our gallant soldiers and sailors cannot be supplied with guns, ammunition, clothing and food, nor can the war be carried on with a swift and victorious conclusion. This gives every man, woman, and child in America, no matter how small his means, the opportunity to do something to help the government."

No Hard Coal Shipments to St. Louis After Oct. 1

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23.—The federal government will allow no more shipments of anthracite coal to St. Louis after Oct. 1 and may turn all shipments to carbons, the best grade produced in this territory, Chicago and the northwest, according to E. J. Wallace, secretary of the St. Louis Coal club and a member of a committee which returned last night from a conference in Washington with fuel Administrator Garfield.

Taft Answers McAdoo Liberty Loan Appeal by Pledging Aid Until Prussian Militarism Is Destroyed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—An appeal by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to the patriotic societies of the country to aid in promoting the second Liberty loan is contained in a letter received from him by William H. Taft, made public here tonight by the League of Enforce Peace, of which the former president is the head. Mr. McAdoo in his letter wrote in part:

"To make this subscription as successful as the first [and it is important that the American people demonstrate that they are not] as wholeheartedly in favor of the war as when the campaign for subscriptions to the first loan was closed, it will be necessary to have the unstinted support of every organization of whatever kind."

Mr. Taft in his response wrote in part:

"The League to Enforce Peace holds that the war in which we are engaged is both justifiable and necessary, and demands that it shall continue until Prussian militarism is destroyed and a stable peace is established, guaranteed by a league of nations, such as the president has so admirably and convincingly advocated."

A memorial service was held in Kenwood Evangelical church, Greenwood avenue and Forty-sixth street, at which the Rev. Joseph Albert McCausland, the pastor, and Merritt Starr, an attorney and intimate friend of the Bentley family, were the speakers.

French and American flags were used in the decorations, and a moral cross and immortelles rested at the base of the pulpit.

Paul Bentley belonged to unit 65, composed largely of Chicago and other Illinois men. He was 21 years old, a senior at Harvard university, received his degree in absentia last June.

"Absent in the service of his country," were the words used in bestowing the degree.

First Chicago Martyr.

Parents of other members of unit 65 were present at the services, as were thirty of the alumni of Oberlin college, of which Mrs. Bentley is a graduate.

"Paul Cody Bentley was Chicago's first martyr in the cause of humanity," said Mr. Starr. "His name ought to be recorded on a tablet among Chicago's historical records just as the name of Col. Ellsworth is preserved as the first martyr of the cause."

Mr. Starr read a clipping from THE TIMES of last Tuesday, giving the account sent home by young Bentley of How Harvard Hero Won Cross Is Related at Memorial Service.

Paul Cody Bentley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bentley, 4750 Kenwood avenue, who died on Sept. 16, from a wound inflicted by a German shell while serving in the ambulance corps in France, was described yesterday as Chicago's first offering in the cause of humanity.

Mr. Taft in his response wrote in part:

"My son lived to make this world cleaner and more wholesome," he said, "and I have psychic manifestations which make me certain he is no more dead today than he was a month ago. I am not a spiritualist, but I firmly believe in the reality of the spiritual life. My son is now able to help the cause for which others are fighting more efficiently than he would have helped had he remained here."

His experiences in driving his ambulance through the danger zone, it was on the roof thus referred to by him he was struck by a shell on Sept. 14, and died the following Sunday.

"Paul was decorated with the croix de guerre (cross of war) by the French government," said Mr. Starr. "The fact was cabled to his parents. A cable also was sent by the commander of the Kansas regiment to which unit 65 was attached, specially commanding him for bravery."

The French commander made a citation stating that unit 65 was the first American unit in action and that its conduct under fire gave assurance of the bravery and service of the Americans."

"Such sacrifice, heroism, and idealism as was displayed by Paul Bentley is a sufficient answer to the charge that Christianity has broken down in this war," said Dr. McCartney.

A golden star was placed opposite the name of Paul in the honor roll of Kenwood church, from which congregation he went into the service of his country.

The Rev. Percy Billings Says Aviator Son, Though Dead, Is Helping Great War Cause.

FAITH in his son's usefulness after death in the cause of democracy was expressed yesterday in an interview given by the Rev. Percy Billings, pastor of an independent church which meets at 5109 Kimbark avenue. The son was David K. Billings, who was killed Sept. 14 in a practice flight at Birmingham, England, where he was a member of the Royal Flying corps. The Rev. Mr. Billings was pastor for several years of the Kenwood Swedish church until his resignation in part.

"My son lived to make this world cleaner and more wholesome," he said, "and I have psychic manifestations which make me certain he is no more dead today than he was a month ago. I am not a spiritualist, but I firmly believe in the reality of the spiritual life. WHAT YOU OWN Is Under-Insured Against Fire

Unless you have increased your fire insurance to cover the present high cost of your property

-$1.50 to $2.50 now buys no more than $1.00 did in 1914.
-To replace your furniture—your rugs—carpets—textiles, you would pay many times more than what they cost.
-Your home, your buildings, have advanced in replacement value.
-Machinery is now higher in cost.
-Fixtures have gone up.
-Merchandise has increased in worth.

You Are Worth More, But Are Less Protected

Suggestion: Get out your fire insurance policies today, and write or telephone your insurance agent for information that will surely benefit you.

Don't gamble against fire. Over 40 times today Chicago's fire engines will madly "clang! clang!" down the streets in answer to alarms. Over 40 times tomorrow, over 40 times the next day—and every day.

Insure on 1917 valuations. Don't wait until your insurance expires. The risk is too great. Fire insurance companies will pay you "the actual cash value at the time when such loss shall happen"—the then existing market for replacement value—if you will properly insure.

Telephone, call upon, write or mail the coupon to your insurance agent—now! His address is on your policy. Hundreds of those who today read this paper will suffer by fire sooner or later. You stand no better chance than the next person. Properly protect yourself at once.

A GERMAN PEACE.

In the reply of the central European powers to the pope's peace note there is nothing to be found which advances a reasonable hope of peace. Germany offers to submit to an international agreement for reduction of armament and for arbitration of disputes. Austria-Hungary embraces this program with the devotion of a state which has suffered enough from a war which it and Germany would not, when they could, prevent by submission of the issues to arbitration.

There is plenty and love of mankind, desire for amicable relations with other nations and expressed willingness to limit international competition to the friendly wrestling which strengthens character and exalts the soul—all these qualities and more in the replies of the central powers, but nowhere any indication of fundamental change in the thoughts, principles, or conditions within the "vo empires."

Early in 1914 German willingness to limit the military force would have been accepted with relief. That was when nations feared that the struggle to attain or maintain superiority in the field would result, with a certainty which could be relied upon absolutely, in a decision by war.

The decision is being had now—after appeals for reduction and for arbitration of disputes had been put aside. If Germany's opponents cannot be persuaded of the sincerity of the proposals which have been given suggestion in the replies to the pope it cannot be regarded as astonishing.

Agreements rest solely upon the mood, character, principles, and emergencies of peoples, and the peoples in arms against Germany and Austria cannot find indications that German mood, character, principles, and emergencies have essentially changed.

Therefore they cannot safely—they must feel—put their trust in agreements decorative a condition peace which merely exposed them to another attack when conditions were favorable for it.

They can distrust themselves as well as Germany. They may know or fear that they would sink back into the repose, thoughtlessness, and inactivity which characterized them before they saw clearly what threatened from behind German boundaries.

The British and Americans must know their own habit of overconfidence, lack of suspicion, indifference, and inertia. If they let go now, when they are aroused, without accomplishment which safeguards the future, the future may find them again exposed to a policy which seeks to injure or destroy them. The great German war accomplishment was to destroy all confidence in German sincerity.

BOYCOTTING FASHIONS.

A few days ago the cables carried a little story relating to efforts in Germany to create fashions "absolutely German in inspiration and elaboration." In response to this demand the Munich modistes got a series of colored sketches designed to wipe Paris off the map.

But it was no go. The Berlin Tagblatt said: "The illustrations might well be taken for caricatures. The body from the waist upward appears far too short and humpy; the lower part is padded to appear as an enormity. Bulging pockets; hats too small or too large, falling over one ear; wide outstanding collars and other absurdities complete a figure from which any rational man would turn with loathing."

And the Tages Zeitung remarked that if the illustrations were a fair specimen, German women had better depend on Paris as in the past.

This failure to evolve pro-German fashions might lend itself to facetious comment, but has a wider significance in indicating the difficulties, if not the inadvisability, of establishing a post-war economic boycott. Germany will want goods made in allied countries, and vice versa, and it will be greatly to the disadvantage of the world if a trade war should be inaugurated.

But at the same time Germany must realize that allied powers are ready to resort to this weapon unless a satisfactory peace is concluded. If it appears that the central powers intend to utilize peace for the sole purpose of preparing for another war, it is clear that the allies cannot and will not trade with Germany on any terms.

THE CAUTIOUS NORWEGIANS.

The Norwegians are at last beginning to take sides—timidly, it is true, and only because pressed with America and her allies. They have no intention of fighting; but they are placing almost their entire merchant fleet at the allies' disposal, and they agree to stop sending German supplies with the exception of fish. The Norwegians may yet hear from Germany. If a break comes it may set Norway's nerves on edge, yet it will break few Norwegian hearts.

They are a German race themselves, and Norwegian celebrities have always found Germany their earliest admirer; but Norwegians detest German tourists, and were not flattered by the German emperor's too frequent visits to Norway, and of late Germany's submarine warfare has hit the Norwegians where they live. Inhabiting a cruelly uplifted country, all mountains and fjords, they depend on seafaring to keep the wolf from the door. Finally, they hate absolutism. When Norway separated from Sweden there was talk of a republic. The plan was abandoned out of deference to the monarchical governments, with which Norway aimed to live on good terms; but royalty in Norway is a mere aristocratic humbug, and the Norwegians intend it to be.

Looking around for a king, they selected a Danish prince, had him weighed, had him put through a medical examination, and decided he would do. On his arrival in Norway they greeted him as "Mr. King." When he asked for an enormous sum to repair the royal palace they scaled it down 90 per cent. The king reigns, the people rule, and nothing cuts them deeper than the idea of falling under the domination of a German autocrat. If they have thus far hesitated to enter the

ALONE AT LAST!

On Monday Mr. Leon Letourneau and Miss Emma Hébert were united in marriage at the St. Peter in Chains church after which the happy couple returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Swenor Jr., where many friends joined them for a party of dancing and merriment.

At 3 p. m., they retired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brese, where many more congratulations were showered upon them. At 7 p. m., many friends joined them in partaking of the marriage supper. About 8 p. m., saw a splendid gathering of friends, numbering about seventy-five in all, who enjoyed themselves immensely until the early hours of the morning. On Tuesday the happy couple were invited for supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Swenor Jr., after which another enjoyable evening was spent with many more friends. On Wednesday the newly wedded couple dined at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. May, after which they retired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bassett, where they again partook of a dainty supper and the remainder of the evening they spent joyfully with many relatives and friends. On Thursday the newly wedded left Trenton by the Grand Trunk for their future home in Montreal, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Emily Menard.

Mrs. Harry Semon Says
She Was Goaded to Attack.

Tells of Threat.

This started it. We quarreled. When he threatened to fill my daughter and myself full of lead, I shot.

This is the explanation given by Mrs. Semon of the affair which came as a climax to the second attempt of the couple to live together. They had been divorced and remarried, the second divorce suit was pending, she said. Three years ago, when they were reunited, she said, she gave Semon all the money he had, $1,200. This started him in his present, which she says has proven successful.

Mrs. Semon, tastefully tailored in blue serge, said Miss Eleanor Linda of 5043 Princeton avenue had come between her and her husband.

Would Condone Desertion.

"I am glad that he will live. He had crushed my love long before last night, when goaded to distraction, I don't know why, I intended to kill or not. I am thankful that he didn't."

Mrs. Gertrude Semon made a statement to the matron of the Maxwell street police station yesterday afternoon when she was notified her husband, J. Harry Semon, would recover from his bullet wound. The Semons live at 2710 Flournoy street, where the shooting occurred. Semon is an undertaker.

"My husband came home Saturday night after several days' absence. He was cross and I said to him, 'Why don't you smile a little bit? You have had a pleasant little vacation—you at least ought to come home cheerful.'

"JUMPING JIMMY" JUMPS TRAIN, BUT IS JUMPED A-TREE

An army training camp is no place for a pickpocket.

"Jumping Jimmy" Dunn, so called because of his agility in sidestepping bonds and pieces of incarceration, is in jail at Mauston, Wis., because he wasn't agile enough to elude the khaki clad patrol that surrounds Camp Douglas.

Dunn was captured by the sentries in a hollow tree near the post. The preliminaries run like this:

Dunn and a companion named Higgins were busying themselves on the Northwestern railroad train which carry thousands of visitors to the military post. Higgins sat in an observation car a railroad detective. He saw Higgins take a pocketbook from a passenger. He seized Higgins and started to grab Dunn, but "Jumping Jimmy" ran to the rear of the car and jumped off.

Although the train was under full headway he suffered only a few bruises and was able to take cover in a wood near the camp.

An alarm was sent out, and three soldiers found Dunn in the hollow tree. He was marched to camp at the point of bayonets and turned over to the civil authorities at Mauston where Higgins already had been jailed.

Dunn will be brought back to Chicago to answer a larceny charge.

Dunn has served a term in Joliet prison for larceny and was sent to the prison farm in Indiana for picking pocketing, but escaped. He was arrested in Iowa some time ago, but escaped the Illinois authorities by driving his truck on the old larceny charge rather than be taken back to Indiana. After his return he jumped bond and had eluded the authorities until caught by soldiers.

A record output

In the last 12 months, Library Bureau has manufactured and sold more filing equipment and card record systems in the Chicago territory than in any like period.

This also applies to the whole United States. And Library Bureau is 41 years old.

This great volume of sales is a splendid tribute to L. B. leadership.

In hundreds of thousands of business houses, from the smallest to the largest, the practical value of L. B. is being proved over and over. Not only does it measure up in its smooth-running, easy-to-handle equipment, but it furnishes the quick and accurate way of handling rush-time business.

In the present "rush," the L. B. Automatic Index and the L. B. Card ledger have made wonderful strides, reducing filing and accounting to their simplest form.

Now is the time to shape business for the future. Do you know what L. B. would do for you, with its card and filing systems and cabinets?

MIGHTY POWER NOW AT WORK TO SAVE RUSSIA

United Soviets Boldly Proclaim Mission to the World.

Following is the eleventh article of a series by James O'Donnell Bennett describing conditions which led to the Kerensky-Korniloff disaster in Russia.

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)
[Copyright: 1917: By The Tribune Company.]
STOCKHOLM, Sept. 23.—The mighty power that stands above powers in Russia, that is hated and feared by all reactionaries, that nevertheless survives suspicion, sneer, and abuse, is again speaking emphatically and promulgating to Russia and the world its determination to save the Russian revolution.

Its latest declaration of principles and purposes contains nothing new, but it has significance from the fact that in this critical hour this power boldly reaffirms its extensive program of social and political reform and insists that its nine demands, beginning with the proclamation of a democratic republic and ending with the abolition of class privilege, are definite and permanent.

Infuence in Roumania.
These Soviets have entered Roumania, and when seven Roumanian soldiers who were trained social democrats, among them the writer, Saltykov, were shot, the Soviets raised such an outcry that the death sentences passed on thirteen other Roumanian soldiers were commuted. At home the Soviets keep a sharp eye on the new government officials drawn from the social democratic ranks, repudiating them when they fall, and handsomely commanding them when they do well. When Saltykov went into the Russian home affairs department as assistant minister to help clean out the old régime scandals of patronage, bureaucracy, and sloth deeply rooted there, the Soviets said in a special bulletin: "Comrade Saltykov is to accomplish a huge task. His past is sufficient guarantee that he will accomplish the task with honor." Those behind the scenes grimly added, "and the Lord help him if he doesn't."

Not Muted by Bungling.
Another thing the Soviets do with singular success is to extract big comebacks from the situation, as when apopos of the provisional government's scandalous utterances on the success of the liberty loan, the Soviets tactfully remarked that the loan had brought barely a billion rubles, whereas the state's monthly expenses exceed two billions. Hence it demanded a compulsory loan because the well to do classes being anti-revolutionary would not voluntarily contribute. Its figures on the liberty loan and expenditures are not accurate, but they are near enough as to take the humbug out of the government.

Touch with All Capitals.
Now this power which so suddenly raises a clear voice amid distraction is that of the United Soviets of all Russia, behind and on the fronts. Its full title in Russia is Soviets Rabochich i Soldaticheskikh.

Tell them

You might as well have the use of that building you are planning—there is nothing to be gained by waiting. There is no prospect of prices going down for some time after the war is over. Go ahead and let your contracts. When it comes to the roof you can make a real saving, and get a better roof by specifying

Certain-teed
Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is not cheaper because the quality is lower, but because it is a less expensive roofing to manufacture. It is better, not only because it is cheaper, but also because it is light weight, weather-tight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and costs practically nothing to maintain. It is now recognized as the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is in the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

fort is to outline some policy during an interval of time. The soviets are the revolutionary element's organs, and consider their most important task to be the strengthening of the revolution's conquest.

Soviets in Everything.

The Petrograd soviet was indeed the factor by which the great revolutionary movement first got itself expressed, and through it all the reforms of the revolution's early stage were declared and all the more important acts uttered. Later the principal activity of the soviets has consisted in controlling the provisional government, countering monarchists and reactionaries, and bringing forward other measures until finally they got themselves in extremely bad with nearly everybody. Nevertheless they kept on demanding an immediate peace and made a fearless propaganda for it. They claim to use our slogan that it was they who "got" the czar, "got" Millicoff, and launched the oft-deferred but steadily rising troubadour, the Stockholm conference project. To convert that project into a reality they define it as the third period of the revolution, a movement that began with the czar's abdication and included the retirement of Millicoff as minister of foreign affairs. And the soviets if they did not originate, still are constantly harping on the "annexations and indemnities and with the right of all nations to self-government" formula, which is more and more taking hold of European proletarians.

THE CINEMA MURDER

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
The Master of Mystery

Read this Now!

"THE last time I visited you," he began. "you had, if I remember rightly, a strip of linoleum upon the floor, and a single rug. Your clothes am I mistaken about your clothes, or are you dressed more expensively?"

"I am dressed more expensively," she admitted. "All the things which you see here and which you have mentioned are presents."

His forefinger shot out with a sudden vigour towards the photograph.

"From him?"

"From Douglas," she admitted, "from your cousin." As though he were looking at some person in another world he realized that she was wearing shoes of shapely cut, and silk stockings.

"Our engagement," she went on, "I am one at first the dearest thing in life to me. I am one in ordinary person with an ordinary character, but I have the capacity to love unselfishly, and I am at heart as faithful and as good as any other woman. But I have had three years of sordid and utterly miserable life, teaching maid, dirty, unlovable children things they had much better not know. I have lived here, among the snouts and the mists, where the flowers seem withered and even the windows are stony, where the people are as hard and as coarse as their ugly houses, where virtue is ugly and vice is ugly, and living is ugly and death is fearsome. And now you see what I have chosen—and I hold to my choice."

"Listen, Philip," she cried passionately, "I don't care what you think! I tell you that if you were really a man, if you had a man's heart in your body, you'd have signed yourself before now—robbed some one, murdered some one, torn the things that make life from the fate that refuses to give them."

"Perhaps," he said, as he turned away, "I may do that."

His hand was upon the latch before she realized that he was actually going. She sprang to her feet.

"Philip!" she shrieked. "You're not going? You're not going like this? You haven't said anything!"

He closed the door with firm fingers. Her knees trembled, she was conscious of an unexpected weakness.

He had come and gone, and she knew what fear was!

FRENCH PRIZE AMERICAN FLAG; NONE FOR SALE

Even the Children Refuse Large Sums for
"Old Glory."

BY JOSEPH B. PIERSON
(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)
CONTROLS AMERICAN ARMY, via Paris, Sept. 23.—Gen. Pershing's car has passed before us. We are running through little villages, mostly at the bottom of long declivities, in that part of France where motorizing is a continual "shoot the chutes." The roads are excellent, the morning air bracing. Women and children along the route are excited by the passing of the staff of the American commander in chief, whose democratic personality grips France. They gaze curiously and wave their hands.

Everybody has an American flag. It hangs with the tri-color at the doors of the houses and at the portals of the village merchants.

We certainly must have an American flag on our motor." One of our party says. "We must at least keep pace with the French people in showing respect for our own country."

Old Glory Too Valuable. But the village merchants have only tri-colors for sale. Long have the American flags been sold out. Well, we can at least buy one from some French child along the road, for we have learned in France that money will buy anything. Again we coast into a typical French village. Ten or twelve houses line the road. There is no railroad or stage. It is isolated by war.

A little boy of 5, with a battered tin toy cannon, is playing at the side of the road with a girl about 7 who has a small dog. In the cannon calson, is the Stars and Stripes and the girl has an American flag in her hand. The flag staff is broken short and the colors are slightly dimmed by wear.

Cannot Buy Her Heart. "Mon ami, I wish to buy your flag. Here's five francs," we say in our best French.

The French boy grasped his flag and scuttled into the door of his home, leaving his cannon in the roadway.

"Ma petite dame, here's 10 francs for your flag."

The little lady boldly stands her ground.

"It is much money, monsieur, but I cannot."

"Fifteen francs?"

"Non, monsieur, ce n'est pas mon drapeau, mais mon coeur lequel vous ne pouvez pas acheter." (No, monsieur, it is not my flag, but my heart which you

TRAIL OF "GYPSY" HEIRESS, ACCUSED AS FORGER, FOUND

Mrs. Corinne Bollinger, the St. Louis heiress whose truant disposition leads her to discard society for a nomadic life with one "Jack" Cappell, was said by detectives yesterday to be near the point of the Illinois border.

Lincoln, Ill.—Mrs. Bollinger and Cappell are said to be traveling in a "gypsy wagon" behind a pair of weary horses.

They were on the point of capture on a charge of passing worthless checks in the Wayside Inn, a roadside operation by Dick Gorino, near Joliet.

Gorino formerly was proprietor of the once notorious Motorhead Inn in Blue Island.

Mr. and $800 Dog Left Behind.

In the haste of their flight they left behind Mrs. Bollinger's daughter Fran- cie, 11 years old, and a bulldog, said to be valued at $800. The dog is held in the inn, but the girl has been returned to St. Louis and is in the care of Mrs. Bollinger's father, C. C. English of the Ely-Walker Dry Goods company.

Mrs. Bollinger was educated for a career in music.

When she was 18 years old she was married to C. C. Byrne, now of New York. This was thirteen years ago. She subsequently left Byrne and upon resuming her music in New York she married C. J. Bollinger of Hudson, N. Y.

Travel in "Gypsy" Style. Upon leaving St. Louis Mrs. Bollinger and Cappell are said to have cashed a number of checks on Mr. English. They are said to frequently have traveled in "gypsy style" in a covered wagon which they carry in a truck for the convenience of a hotel upon arriving in a town. Detectives have followed them through a number of southern Illinois cities.

CRACKSMEN GET $147 AS BANDITS ROB THREE MEN

Cracksmen stole $147 from a safe in the butcher shop of Edward J. Shinner, 1254 North Paulina street, late Saturday night as before daylight yesterday, Shinner told the police. The burglars crawled through a transom and dragged the strongbox into a rear room where they forced it open. Shinner discovered his loss when he opened his place yesterday.

A Weisberger, 6145 Bishop street, was held up at South Laffin and West Sixty-second streets and robbed of $18.85, a gold watch and a ring.

George Quist, 4002 South May street, was stopped at Justine and West Sixty-first streets and robbed of $27 and a gold watch.

A half hour later, at the same intersection, the bandits held up Roy Bender, 6049 Honord street, obtaining $9.50.

The Secret of Martin & Martin Success

The Martin & Martin shoe business is unique—there is no other like it. It is founded upon the theory that the appeal of quality lasts longer than the appeal of price—and upon the fact that shoe economy must finally be judged by the cost per year and not by the price per pair.

The Martin & Martin theory of business is a sound one. Men and women buy Martin & Martin shoes not only because they are fashionable, correct and exclusive, but because it costs less per year to wear these shoes than any others. Thousands have demonstrated this fact to their own satisfaction. You can demonstrate it for yourself by one trial of the shoes.

FASHION'S BLUEBOOK

Here's a Formula That Will Make a Splendid Skin Food BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she reduced twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Wilson, the eight-year-old beauty who corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an oily scalp with dandruff, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamp and address to the Tribune and the information will be mailed to you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

J. THE FORMULA FOR A splendid skin food to be used when massaging the face is as follows: One ounce of white wax, one ounce of spermaceti, one ounce of borax, two ounces of coconut oil, four ounces of oil of sweet almonds, four ounces of orange flower water, and one-quarter ounce of boric acid. Melt all the oils and wax in a double boiler, adding slowly and gradually the orange flower water in which the boric acid has been dissolved; lastly, pour in five drops of benzoin. Make sure the ingredients are fresh and of the first quality. The wart that you complain of may be removed by heating a needle red hot while holding it with pincers and then passing it through the wart.

MRS. C. L. C. THE FORMULA FOR a splendid cold cream is as follows: Two ounces oil of sweet almonds, one-half ounce of spermaceti, one-half ounce of white wax, one-half ounce of rose water, twenty grains of powdered borax, and four drops of oil of rose. Melt the spermaceti and wax together at a moderate heat, add the oil of sweet almonds, stirring in thoroughly. Dissolve borax in rose water and add to mixture slowly. Beat briskly and thoroughly until cold. Add four drops of oil of rose. The odor of the rose water evaporates in the beating, therefore the need of the oil of rose.

By Mae Tinne. JULIAN ELTINGE aware he wouldn't ever, ever do it! Then he did. Marched into the Lasky camp to the tune of tinkling simoleons and sacrificed himself on the most popular altar of the day—the movies.

One thing—people are never neutral regarding the world's greatest female impersonator. They either date on him, else loathe him with a profound and healthy hate. Be it said then, quickly, that the suspense may be over with as he was on the legitimate so is he on the crooked. The cameras never bluffed him for a minute.

"The Countess Charming" is a bright little conceit in which Mr. Eltinge has two roles. To win the lady he loves he sloughs off masculinity and becomes a Russian countess, in which guise he steals, insults, outwits, and otherwise discomfits those who had put sand under the wheels of his ambition to make the lovely Betty Lovering Mrs. Saunders Julian. (I think that name should be reversed—it would sound better!)

During this process he—wears some beauteous clothes, also on one occasion a hat that is fierce—looks like Tillie's. And when he's a lady, however, I think the feminine contingent will agree that he is remarkably well gowned and that he certainly does know how to wear his clothes.

The picture is an interesting one, with a cast that is exceptionally competent. Of course, Mr. Eltinge is "it."

I wonder—IS he growing stout? *

Lieut. Harper to Wed.

Mrs. William J. White of 1815 Judson avenue, Evanston, announces the engagement of her daughter, Anna Lindsay, to First Lieut. Paul Church Harper of the Seventeenth United States field artillery, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson Harper of Evanston.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childlike saying or poem. The only condition is that the story must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Auntie Bee, "Tribune."

I was much amused last evening, while at the movies, to hear a small child crying to her mother, who had preceded her some distance down the aisle: "Mamma, you will lose me if you are not careful."

L. H.

Garold often went downtown with a neighbor, Mrs. W., who always showed him a fine time, taking him to a show or buying him something. One day they met his aunt, and the two women visited and shopped, paying no attention to little Garold. When he returned home to his mother, noticing he looked glum, asked him if he had had a nice time. He replied, "No, Mrs. W. never 'tentioned' me at all; she just 'tentioned' Aunt Dell."

A. M. H.

A little boy came over to my house one day and said, "My brother has gone to bed because he took pie from the pantry."

I said to him, "You are a good boy for not taking any, aren't you?"

"Yes, I'm a good boy 'cause I couldn't reach it," he replied.

More New Autumn Fashions

FROM the time—back in 1865—when this city was only a small, hustling town in the middle of the great prairies, to the present date, this Store has been headquarters for the rich and beautiful and authoritative in Fashions. It has been the constant aim of our fashion staff to adapt the artistic and inspirational creations of Paris to the needs and tastes of the American woman.

GOWNS—For every use; the all-favored simple street styles; the rich, simply fashioned afternoon models; the beautiful affairs for dinners and dances—colorful showing.

Sixth Floor.

SKIRTS—The new styles have a hint of a bustle-like drapery, or they are overskirted. Fabrics are rich brocaded failles, colorful Scotch woolens, shimmering satins. There are now on view many new lovely models.

Sixth Floor.

SPORTS APPAREL—Aviation or ice boating, riding, golf, mountain climbing or hunting—or any other sport to which woman has turned her attention—has been considered in selecting the apparel shown here. Women who come in today will be rewarded with an early view of some smart Mole Cloth Suits and new leather togs, just arrived, including Waist-coats, Norfolk Coats and Hunting Jackets.

Sixth Floor.

COATS—Rich with fur, made of exquisite woolens and wool-backed satins, these have a tremendous vogue, due to the extreme favor for frocks. The Women's Coat Section shows exclusive styles.

Sixth Floor.

SIXTH FLOOR

The Juvenile Floor

A floor whereon all children's clothing has been assembled, to save the busy mother's energy and time. From smart Millinery to sturdy Shoes, from warm woolens to serviceable Tops, coats, the needs of infant, kindergartner, school child, and high school boy and girl have been thoroughly met.

Fourth Floor.

And it is a matter of note that, even in this season—when ocean travel is fraught with uncertainty—this Store is able to show Gowns, Hats, Suits, Wraps, Blouses, Furs and Fabrics with the stamp of Paris upon them. You are cordially invited to visit this great Store builded for your convenience, showing now as many handsome models as one will find anywhere on American soil.

SUITS—For street and dress occasions, are particularly interesting. Coats are of every length from hip length to three-quarters; rich ornamentation is plentifully used.

Sixth Floor.

BLOUSES—So many lovely styles have come in that one must see them to appreciate their extreme newness—ball buttons of wood, buttons that are hollow squares of glass, and a wealth of handsome embroidery employed.

Sixth Floor.

MISSES' APPAREL—Frocks, Coats, Suits, Blouses and Skirts—all have received careful attention in these Sections devoted to the requirements of the girl in her late 'teens and early twenties. There are lovely new things for school, street, afternoons and formal wear—and now is the time to make selections. The assortments include handsome styles which are not to be duplicated.

Sixth Floor.

A Wealth of Wonderful New Satins

GLITTER of metallic threads and shimmer of satin—one vast wonderland of exquisite weaves—is the Silk Section these days. Weaves and colorings, patterns and qualities every woman will love—suggesting gowns and wraps, dress hats and blouses.

It is to be unmistakably a season of Satins and satin-surfaced weaves. One commences by losing her heart to the Georgette Satins, with their high lustre and wonderful crepe-like qualities for draping, only to find a dozen equally lovely weaves in every color for which there is any demand.

Lost Racing Bird, Found in Chicago. Belongs in Milwaukee, Story in "Tribune" Reveals.

In last Friday's issue of THE TRIBUNE there was a story of a lost racing pigeon that had taken refuge at the residence of Detective Sergeant William Boyd, 2346 West Twelfth street. A picture of Mr. Boyd's two sons, Charles and Robert, feeding the bird accompanied the article. The publication of the story brought the following letter from A. Bard Hamilton, recording secretary of the American Racing Pigeon Union:

"Charles and Robert Boyd: My dear boys: I noticed your picture in THE TRIBUNE holding in your hand a racing pigeon banded 'Au 17 E 4008' and countermarked '3725.'

"This ring was issued at the Milwaukee center of the American Racing Pigeon Union, of which H. Grande Montague, 183 Ninth street, Milwaukee, is secretary.

"I am writing him informing him that he has this bird in your care, and he will advise you what to do with it.

"This is a young bird, hatched in some races. Evidently the bird has been in a hard race, became confused and was forced by the extreme wind to settle in Chicago instead of being able to locate his home in Milwaukee."

"The American government is sending a great many of these birds to France to be used as messengers in the American army, and no doubt some of this bird's brothers or sisters are now helping the Uncle Sam win this war in France.

"No doubt you will hear from Mr. Montague the first part of the week, and in the meantime accept the union's thanks for your kind treatment of this little wanderer. It has been indicated that the codicil would be contested and the hunting of the body is believed to have been decided upon as a move in the proposed suit.

Bingham's Statement.

The text of the statement by Judge Bingham, who formerly was mayor of Louisville, follows:

"On Friday morning last (Sept. 21) the press was full of rumors to the effect that the body of the late Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham was to be disinterred. Her grave is in the cemetery at Wilmington, N. C.

"Neither Judge Bingham nor any of his friends knew anything whatever about the matter, and the same is true of Helen Bruce, counsel for the executors and legatees under Mrs. Bingham's will. The dispatches stated that the health officer of Wilmington had issued a statement and would not even affirm or deny that he had granted any permit for disinterment. It was further stated that the collateral relations of Mrs. Bingham had put a guard over her grave.

Autopsy Performed.

"On Saturday a friend of Judge Bingham was in Wilmington to ascertain exactly the condition of affairs. It was learned that at 3 o'clock on last Tuesday morning (Sept. 18) the disinterment took place; that an autopsy was performed in the presence of William J. Burns and several physicians; that vital parts of the body were removed, and that these parts were turned over to some one and taken to New York. It is needless to say that all of this was surreptitious and was a secret closely guarded until the object was accomplished.

"It is presumed that the disinterred body was reburied. It was then that the supposed necessity arose of jealously protecting the grave from violation.

Brother at Sickbed.

"It belongs to the public to form its own opinion of this ghastly drama. Mrs. Bingham was attended in her last illness by Dr. M. S. A. Schreiber, Dr. E. P. Boggs, and Dr. S. A. Schreiber. On Thursday, July 12, two weeks before her death, Mrs. Bingham had a severe attack. Her brother, William R. Nevan, was summoned by Judge Bingham and came. He conferred fully with Dr. Ratcliff concerning Mrs. Bingham's condition and approved everything that was being done.

Doctor Has Nurses' Charts.

"On Sunday, July 22, Mrs. Bingham's condition was such that Judge Bingham wrote his sisters that he thought that they should come. Responsive to this, her sister, Mrs. Wise, came, arriving Wednesday evening, July 23. Mrs. Bingham was then fully conscious and remained so until Thursday night. Mrs. Wise remained with her until the end came on Saturday morning.

"There were two trained nurses. Their official charts and records are in the custody of Dr. Boggs. These records will be kept in a secure place and produced when a proper occasion arises.

"When, if ever, whispered suspicion shall become an audible charge, such charge will be met with facts."

Agged Wonderer Is Homeless.

John Henry Williams, a negro, about 40 years old, was found wandering about the north side Friday, was taken to the county hospital yesterday, when efforts to learn his address failed.

Neighbors found Young dead.

"Let's Die Together"; She
Flees, He Fires, Falls Dead

Robert Young, 38 years old, 4825 South Halsted street, called his wife, Josephine, into a bathroom of their home yesterday. He held a revolver.

He died together," he said.

Screaming, Mrs. Young ran out of the house with her three children. As she stepped over the threshold a shot rang out.

Neighbors found Young dead.

Witnesses Named.

Unless the defense obtains an adjournment in the morning the state intends to have testimony at the preliminary hearing of these witnesses: Dr. P. R. McFadden, the coroner's physician who first examined Mrs. King's body after her death; Undertaker Weddington, who embalmed her body; Dr. Willard H. Burdette, the Chicago pathological expert, who conducted the autopsy there; Capt. William S. Bingham, the man of Gaston's fatal automobile ride, ending in the widow's slaying; Afton Means, of the same party; Ernest Eury, the Negro who drove the death car; Dr. Otto H. Schmitz, New York district attorney physician; Capt. William Jones, pistol expert, New York police department; Farmer Dry, who lives close to the Blackwater spring, and a Mrs. Blackwater.

These witnesses, in the opinion of the authorities, will be sufficient to "cinch" the holding of Gaston for the action of the grand jury.

Means Caught in Cell.

While Sheriff Caldwell permitted Gaston to remain another half hour after he had served the murder warrant on him, he did not permit him to leave his cell yesterday. And Gaston whiled through the long napkins and papers, and confabulations, three times to the correspondent, his voluminous account of what he told his counsel in a dramatic re-enactment of the trial yesterday afternoon.

Gaston said that as he and Mrs. King walked toward the spring he casually placed his automatic pistol in the forks of the old sycamore some thirty-five feet from the spring itself, that he laid SATURDAY'S issue, under the caption Women in Wartime, said that the women's division of the National War-Services Association would meet Wednesday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock, in the Park Manor School. The meeting will be held this afternoon, at 2:15.

Saturday's story of the appeal boards' investigation of thirteen hundred or more cases made by draft-registrants seeking exemption mentioned E. S. Head as one of a group to be taken to Camp Grant for trial as draft dodgers. He was described as a "holy woman" as an "intellectual objector" and as one who "did not care to go to war."

Cloyd Head, a playwright, was present.

He was associated with the activities of the Little Theater when that venture in the Fine-Arts Building was in care of Maurice Browne.

Charles E. Randle, Retired Capitalist, Dead

Charles E. Randle is dead at his residence, 4339 Drexel boulevard, after a short illness from acute indigestion. He was 63 years old and a retired capitalist. For many years he was one of the directors of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and he died as president of the State Bank and of the Railways company. He was a member of the Union League, Pilsenmoor and Beverly Country clubs, and the Chicago Automobile club. He is survived by Mrs. Randle, his two sons, Hanson and Guy, and his daughter, Mrs. William Forrester. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon with burial at Oakwoods cemetery.

It Ought to Be Easy to Sing.

You can sing it with or without any tune," said Little Johnny Jones.

Mamma says the money is a godsend to us," writes the daughter of the woman whose case was reported to THE TRIBUNE by A. R. Wolf, a yellow taxi driver, resulting in two $10 checks to this paper. "Mamma is better now, but can't work for some time because she will have to be operated on," he letter continues. "But we will get along some time." Mamma's three dollars was received yesterday for the Mrs. David Stryer fund from Beatrice Wendell.

George M. Cohan, who invented the American flag, came to town yesterday and immediately mounted his Pegasus in behalf of soldier smokers.

"I haven't written any poetry or songs or such for more than three weeks," he said, "and after riding over the roads for three months I smacked him."

"Too, my poetic feet don't seem to be just right, but I'll commit myself to a sort of crime to help THE TRIBUNE to baffle out. Anyone who reads this ought to feel warlike. If it doesn't get smokers for every one in the new national army I'll write another one. This stuff's easy for me."

The Baccalaureate Poem.

The poem is as follows:

It's up to you, it's up to you;

Farmers More Willing to Sell Old Grain; Cash Prices High.

Farmers display more willingness to sell their old corn as the season draws toward an end, and while weather conditions are favorable a fair movement of corn from the interior is to be expected. The receipts at primary markets last week totalled 2,522,000 bu., and were slightly over 1,000,000 bu. in excess of the previous week's arrivals, although nearly 2,000,000 bu. less than for the corresponding period last year. Such an increase in the movement at this time of the year is encouraging, although the offerings still come far from meeting requirements.

Many buyers remain out of the market because they cannot get suitable lots offered there and are in a position to take up more corn than can be secured quickly because of the extreme price and natural tendency of the market to weaken as the new grain commences to move. Europe is in need of corn, but little has been getting as far as the seaboard. Some corn in seaboard elevators was commanded by the government to fill a vessel waiting for a cargo.

Future Market Advances.

The corn future market shows an advance of 1/2% for the week. Prices rallied about 6¢ from the low points made early in the period, but failed to hold all of the advance. Volume of trade was heavy and the gains the largest witnessed in some time. There was some influential buying, and it is believed that a big long interest has been accumulated, considerable by seaboard speculators. Weather conditions have played an important part in affecting values, and continue to be the dominating factor.

Wet weather is promised for the early part of this week, followed by a drop in temperatures. Frost is still much to be feared, as there is yet a big percentage of the crop that has not reached a stage of maturity where freezing temperatures will not damage it.

September Oats Strong.

September oats made a slight gain for the week, but the determination of the market to advance sharply remains at the level of early in the week under the stimulus of active short covering. Buying of September oats was led by a prominent elevator concern that is thought to have been short at least 10,000,000 bu. at one time. Their position was helped somewhat by the weakening of cash oats, and moderate amounts were delivered on contracts. Premiums on cash oats were almost wiped out; in fact, the No. 3 white went to a discount of 1/4c, whereas early in the week they held about 1/2c over the September price.

There was a fair export demand, but it proved rather disappointing to the bulls, in view of the large surplus that remains to be disposed of. The movement of oats from the country was a little lighter than during the previous week, but primary markets had materially more than a year ago. Weather conditions generally were favorable for threshing and moving oats, but prices apparently are not to the liking of speculators.

Wheat Receipts Larger.

Wheat receipts at primary markets last week were 6,845,000 bu., against 5,590,000 bu. the previous week, but the supply was still much below demand. Millers are rushed with orders for flour and consequently are making efforts to get as much wheat as possible. Plowing for winter wheat is largely finished and considerable seeding has been done in sections of the southwest, the work being further advanced than normal. The acreage will be big and thus far there have been no indications of Hessian fly infestation.

Provisions were strong, with pork and ribs advancing to sharply higher levels. Packing interests have been buying, and there is a keen active demand for cash product from government and foreign buyers. The hog supply promises to prove disappointing, and stock of products abroad are heavily reduced.

“Nice” Burglars Disturb Nothing Except Silver

“Nice” burglars paid a visit Saturday to the home of Mrs. Pauline Sturm, 3731 Pine Grove Avenue, Mrs. Sturm told the police yesterday.

“My daughter, Lucille, and I were out for the day,” Mrs. Sturm said. “When we returned we discovered our silver dinner set gone. Then we found the front door had been pried open.

“Those burglars were awful,” she thought. “They didn't disturb a thing in the house except our silver.”

Women Plan Survey to Help in War Emergencies

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—State representatives of the women's committee of the Council of National Defense are preparing to make a survey of the occupational training courses offered by various institutions throughout the country. This is a phase of the general effort to equip women to take men's positions during the war.

The new price of 23¢ cents a pound for copper fixed by President Wilson on Thursday has not yet shown a marked effect on the market. The price of copper is still at par with the price, but some of the sellers appear willing to make contracts over the first quarter of next year at the same price as the second quarter of the leading interests quoting a price of 26 cents a pound for that period. It is evident that some of the sellers are anxious to get a price for their supplies. In some cases, it appears that the decision at Washington before contract for supplies, on the amount to be paid, has been made.

As a result of holding for home consumption has been held back for weeks for the use of the war. Whether buyers seek future or ask for immediate delivery, the price will be the same, and the factors in the control of the central centers in the amount which they may be able to obtain. Producers are likely to experience a shortage before the end of 1917.
